The job’s not done yet...
1. Relentless Focus
Focus on the variables that are the most effective in driving progress. Don't just focus on the results - focus on the process that will get you the result. "Control the controllables" - focus on what's in your power.
2. Follow the science...
Leadership, project planning, communication and measurement

- Build will and conditions for change
- Understand current system
- Develop aim and change theory
- Identify specific change ideas, test and refine in context
- Implement locally, using PDSA cycles to build in sustainability
- Scale up / spread where relevant
3. What really matters?
